

EVIDENSIA: We want to see happier, healthier animals.

// Evidensia, the leading chain for veterinary care in Scandinavia chose Longopac in their waste management handling //

Evidensia is the quality leading chain for veterinary care in Scandinavia and comprises more than 90 animal hospitals and clinics established in different locations in the Nordic countries.

Evidensia provides more specialists and more advanced equipment compared to other veterinary establishments.

Today Evidensia has more than 90 veterinary hospitals and clinics in Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Finland.

Stronger together is Evidensia's basic principle and it has quickly led to that the company is the largest and highest quality veterinary care chain in the Nordic region.

Evidensia treats more than 730 000 animals per year and have more than 1500 employees.

Evidensia is shaping the future of veterinary care with conducting extensive training and clinical research and by taking the lead in veterinary developments.

"We learn from one another and share expertise with all our vets, carers, veterinary nurses and other staff at our clinics and hospitals. In order to monitor and develop veterinary care issues we have set up a Veterinary Medicine Forum, which reports to our management team" (website quote)

Evidensia has now decided to work with Paxxo and to change all their waste handling to include Longopac.

